Classic pieces star in this scene set for an intimate evening: our Lorenze dining table's art deco-inspired lines contrast with our Colette dining chairs' gently curved backs, each featuring a subtle tulip motif.

Our best-selling Charlton bed has a hotel-like luxury look, with its camelback headboard and hand-tailored upholstered panel. Notes of chocolate—like this exclusive wallpaper—and plum make this space absolutely decadent.

COMPLIMENTARY DESIGN SERVICE: the best value we offer

We staff our Design Centers not with salespeople, but with professional interior designers. Make an appointment or just stop by to tell them what you'd like to see in your home.

They'll take you on a tour of the Design Center and ask questions, getting to know you, your family, and your space. If the perfect sofa or dining table is all you need, they'll walk you through the options, so it can be made just the way you want it. If your home needs more, they'll suggest a complimentary home call, either in person or via video app.

Once they're clear on the design direction, your designer will create a presentation, including a 3D plan that will absolutely amaze you. Once you approve, our craftspeople will get to work on your custom furniture, and your designer will assist in coordinating the delivery.

Not able to visit a Design Center? Not a problem—we can still help you create a place you'll love coming home to. Your designer can start with blueprints and work with you remotely to get every detail right—call or book an online design session to get started.

FROM SHOPPING TRIP TO REIMAGINED HOME

a real-life Ethan Allen design story

Roopa Dhiyogi
Design Consultant
Naperville, IL
Diamond Spirit Award

Two years ago, designer Roopa Dhiyogi met a client who was just browsing at our Naperville, Illinois, Design Center. Roopa worked to make a connection anyway, explaining, "There are two sets of people: some come in with a definite idea, and then some people who need direction."

The client shared that she was about to tackle a kitchen and flooring redo. Roopa made two suggestions: first, to reach out to a kitchen designer she recommended, and second, to book a home call to begin furniture selection. "That way," she told the client, "by the time the renovation is done, all the furniture will be ready to go."

The client wanted to update her space and embrace a more soothing feel. Roopa began with a modern neutral palette for the living room, selecting a pair of our Mod Motion swivel chairs, our Braemore coffee table, and our Conway sectional. Using soft goods and patterned fabric, she added pops of red to honor the client's favorite color.

Upstairs, Roopa divided the large primary bedroom into areas for sleep, work, and reading, replacing the client's folding desk and creating a custom coffee bar using our Continental home office collection. The antiqued mirror finish on our Vivica chests brightened up the one-window bedroom; repeated cream and silver tones brought in pattern without drenching the space in color.

The renovation was completed around the same time the client's Ethan Allen delivery was ready—Roopa's timing was perfect. "She had her friends visit after it was done, and she was so excited," Roopa shares. "You wouldn't believe how much they loved everything!"

Because the client was making a big style change, 3D planning had a big impact. "When people need help with visualizing, there's nothing like 3D to help them see it."

If you don't know where to start, an Ethan Allen designer can make achieving your home's next phase easy. Just stop by the Design Center, and let us take it from there.

MODERN YET SO REFINED

Hand-tailored here in a coffee-colored velvet, our new Rockwell sectional stands out as a modern reinterpretation of classic Chesterfield sofas. Its shelter-style back, rolled arms, and biscuit tufts all contribute to a tailored, statement piece of seating.
