FINEST ARTISANS.

A craftsman with a mustache and safety glasses, wearing a dark blue t-shirt with the 'ETHAN ALLEN' logo, is working in a workshop. He is using a blue heat gun to apply a piece of white fabric to a wooden frame. He has a brown leather tool belt with various tools, including a pair of scissors, hanging from his waist. The background shows a workshop environment with wooden frames and other materials.

Start by selecting your favorite frame from options like sofas, sectionals, recliners, and headboards. Then, work with a designer to explore dozens of fabric options, plus each frame's unique accents like tufting and trim.

Our craftspeople will get to work, creating the pieces you ordered exactly how you want them. They'll tailor the fabric you chose to a sturdy frame, then hand-apply the details that make each piece one of a kind.

HOW WE MAKE YOUR CUSTOM FURNITURE

WE CRAFT ABOUT 75% OF OUR FURNITURE CLOSE TO HOME,
IN OUR NORTH AMERICAN WORKSHOPS. MUCH OF OUR FURNITURE IS MADE FROM WOOD THAT WE SOURCE FROM RESPONSIBLY MANAGED
APPALACHIAN FORESTS AND THEN DRY IN OUR OWN KILNS.

In our wood furniture workshops, the world's best craftspeople still use time-honored techniques to make your furniture by hand. From turning and joinery to veneering and finishing, every step of the furniture-making process is meticulously completed from frame to finish to create something beautiful and lasting.

At Ethan Allen, custom furniture isn't just something we can do—it's the core of who we are. Give them a gift that's made just the way they like it—a gift that will delight them for years to come.
